PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Murad Hossin is a Bangladeshi visual artist whose practice explores the emotional and spiritual relationships connecting people, landscape, and cultural memory. Working primarily in acrylic on canvas and watercolour on paper, he draws upon riverine environments, rural life, bird habitats, and the ecological character of Bangladesh. Through layered colour, atmospheric space, texture, and semi-abstract forms, he transforms familiar natural scenes into reflective visual narratives. He is currently pursuing a PhD in Fine Arts at the Faculty of Fine Art, University of Dhaka.

ARTIST STATEMENT

“My artistic practice investigates the emotional and spiritual relationship between people, nature, and cultural memory. Through colour, texture, and abstraction, I seek to transform ordinary experiences into visual narratives that encourage reflection and dialogue. Each painting represents a journey between reality and imagination while celebrating resilience, identity, and shared humanity.”
